REPUBLICAN NOMINATION.

FOR PRESIDENT,
Abraham Lincoln,
OF ILLINOIS.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,
Hamlin, Hamlin,
OF MAINE.

What Was It?

Last Friday evening, near 10 o'clock, the horizon in the North-west, was suddenly illuminated causing an appearance which resembled, what is sometimes called "heat lightning." But the light seemed very soon to concentrate into a ball, which put on a white, silvery appearance, very brilliant like the most intense fireworks, and about as large as a man's head. This cindescence gradually arose, and passed with a graceful motion, to the South and East, until its light was hid from our view, by the buildings behind which, in its course, it passed.

When it had apparently reached a position over Fort Wallop, it changed from a white to a red light, and separated, or "opened" into two bodies, not so large as the first, but each exactly like the other, one but a short distance from the other, which distance was continually the same. In the rear of these two lights was a train made up apparently of smaller lights, but these also rotated the same relative distance to each other and to the larger lights.

This "appearance" was seen by several of our citizens in different parts of our city, and always possessed the same points of compass to those individuals, however far apart the individuals might be separated, showing that the light passed at a very great altitude. It was also seen by a gentleman seven miles north of this city, who thought that it passed nearly over his house, which also shows that it must have been at a great altitude. It was also seen by passengers on the steamers in Long Island.

The question recurs—What was it?

P. H. COOKE.

At the primary meetings in St. Louis, on the eighth inst., the Douglas Democrats carried everything over the Breckinridge party.

Carl Schurz, the eloquent orator of Wisconsin is stamping Illinois, speaking to large numbers of Germans in their native language.

One of Joe Lane's letters from Mexico, says the St. Louis Democrat, is dated from Vera Croote.

Judge Hassebeck, Republican elector of Ohio is stamping Dilucula also speaking in German.

Probably ten thousand votes will be polled for Honest Old Abe in Maryland, notwithstanding the affirmative, made a "split" in its preparation to dividing it into two pieces.

Senator Green of Missouri has deserted Breckinridge and will aid Douglas.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Brief Locals.

BY THE MAN ABOUT TOWN.

The dwellers hereabouts will be glad to learn that we are not to be deprived, this year, of those pleasant occasions denominat- ed Fort days, when the Band plays at Fort Adams for one hour on one or more days of each week. Next Thursday will be the commencement of these musical entertainments, which will be continued every Thursday afternoon during the season, commencing about six o'clock. The expense is paid by subscription, principally by strangers.

Coming down from Fall River on board the Metropolitans, Friday night, we found her accompanyed Steward, Mr. George A. Rice, at his old post, notwithstanding the report that had gained currency that he was down with the small pox. So far from this being true, he has never had the small pox or varioloid; nor has he been absent from his post for a single day in consequence of sickness of any sort. Mr. Rice states that a very light case of varioloid occurred with one of his subordinates on board the boat, who was removed to his house, being already convalescent, not being confined to his bed a single day while there, and he complains that undue importance was attached to the circumstace, causing him no small inconvenience in the way of his profession. The young man has now recovered and gone to Saratoga.

"Mr. Douglas, I cannot look at you without thinking of a passage of scripture."

"What is that?" asked our hero, good humoredly.

"The way of the wicked is short," responded Lincoln, and fainted away.

The crowd applauded tremendously, but Douglas was not to be outdone. Waiting until Lincoln had revived, he quietly said:

"And you remind me, Mr. Lincoln, of another passage."

"What is that?" asked Lincoln.

"How long! O Lord, how long?" responded Douglas. He was elated.

By way of concluding our biography, we give the following extract from one of Mr. Douglas' most eloquent speeches:

"Squatter sovereignty, gentlemen, [great applause] is not the right of one man over another man, accorded by the constitution, but the right of another man over this man, or that man over this man, where man is willing that man should be his own man, independent of every other man. This, gentlemen, is squatter sovereignty, without mitigation."

A few days ago, a couple of sharpers pulled the wool over the eyes of some farmers in the northern part of Washington county. They were well dressed, driving a fine carriage—agents they said, of some eastern artery. They wanted to buy wool—would give sixty-five cents, twenty-five cents more than the market price, if the former would take one-fourth of the price in their cloth. The offer was tempting. One farmer, of the town of Hartford, took $90 worth of broadcloth at $5 per yard. The gentlemen suggested that, to be returned when the wool was delivered at Fort Edward. The note was given, and the gentlemen of the fine carriage drove off. They operated in this way for several days; but before the time arrived for the wool to be delivered in Fort Edward, and the balance of the price paid in money, the gentlemen had the notes discounted and left for parts unknown. The cloth proved to be worth from one to two dollars per yard.

Practical Sympathy.

Since the embarrassing denouement of the Local's Chowder party on Goat Island a week ago, by which he was fifty dollars out of pocket, he has received any amount of expressions of sympathy in his losses. But none have come with a firm belief in their sincerity, than one Friday, where a gentleman, unsolicited, on learning by inquiry the facts, put his hand in his pocket and paid over the price of a dinner ticket. Others have likewise shown substantial marks of sympathy and good feeling, which will always be gratefully remembered. Such things cost but little, but go a great way, being treasured up in the recesses of a grateful heart.

ONE OF UNCLE SAM'S BOATS.—The U. S. Surveying schooner Crawford, Lieut. J. P. Franklin commanding, arrived at this port yesterday and is anchored in the inner harbor.

We invite especial attention of our readers to the Ambrotype Gallery opened by our friend Tyler, at 3 Deblis Block, as being a desirable place to obtain likenesses of a fine quality and at a low price. Ladies and gentlemen, in addition to receiving the most courteous treatment at the hands of Tyler, will obtain pictures produced in the highest style of art.

PERSONAL.—Madame Johnson Grover, the celebrated pianist who delighted so many at her concert at the Fillmore House, has taken rooms at the High Street House.

Dr. Thomas Bufts, of Southampton, Va., who died last week, has directed in his will that his servants, 150 in number, shall be freed.

In England, the keepers of packs of hounds invariably mix powdered sulphur with the water which their dogs drink during the spring, which they believe will prevent hydrophobia. It is certainly worth a trial.

It is stated that careful computation shows the steam power of the Great Eastern steamship is equal to the water power that drives the mills at Lowell. This gives an idea of the immense power of the steamer, equal to that required for the works of the great manufacturing city of America.

The missionaries at the Marquesas Islands say that cannibalism has not yet been wholly eradicated. While they let the sweet meat of the Missionaries alone, the priest in roasting and eating one another, and last September, a Tyee was cooked and eaten before the good men's eyes. They turned the poor fellow on a spit and browned him up in a very epicurean style.

ANOTHER ANARCHY.—Several combinations of the names of Lincoln and Hamlin have been presented by the papers, but we have not even the fact stated that they may be arranged so as to read the same from left to right and from top to bottom as follows:

Ham-lin.
Lin-coln.

Another we believe we have already given: Ham-lin-coln.
What does this portend?—N. Orleans Picayune.

Singular Accident.

A young lad, named Hudson, one of the guests at the C Lumbin Spring House, Columbia, N. Y., on Tuesday last, during a heavy shower of rain, stepped to the window of her room to empty a wash bowl, and while in the act of so doing, was suddenly seized with a fainting spell. She dropped the bowl instantly, and at the same time losing her balance, fell after it on to the veranda some thirteen feet below. The only serious injuries she received were in consequence of striking upon fragments of the bowl, which cut her face and one hand quite badly.

Many of the colleges have already held their Commencements; but the most ancient ones—Yale, Harvard and Dartmouth, will hold theirs during this month or next.

There are at present in this country one hundred and twenty-four college institutions, including the regular colleges—of which almost every religious denomination has one—and professional schools of different kinds. These institutions turn out every year not less than two thousand young men from their graduating classes, to seek their fortunes in the different professions; and hence every branch of professional life is crowded. The pupils are swarming with ambitious preachers; lawyers are about as numerous as clients, and doctors as thick as blackberries. Out of this annual outpouring of educated young men—this army, two thousand strong, of well-organized collegians—not more than two or three, perhaps, of any year's exodus, make their mark in the world. But this may be accounted for by the fact that many of them, finding the learned professions all full, turn their attention to more practical and lucrative pursuits.

Dise.
